Hi Jon,

The document that we sent to you in November (dated 11/3) is as close to final as it gets without actually being labeled "final". I should be able to send you the final document later this week, but it won't be much different.

We are putting the final touches on the implementation plan today, as we now have a budget and can firm up some target dates. I hope to send that to you at the same time later this week.

We appreciate your patience. Some things are completely out of our control.

Thanks,

Dana

we are continuing to work on the review of the Secretary's December 10, 2015 letter regarding Chesapeake Bay grants and PA's 18-month strategy commitments. A couple of questions have come up and I wanted to check in.

The letter says that "the final 18-month Strategy was submitted to the EPA for review and reflects PA's commitments to the Chesapeake Bay goals." We recall receiving one draft submission of the Strategy back in early November for close hold review. Could you confirm whether this is the final Strategy document or can you send us the final document for review now?

Similarly, reference is made to an Implementation Plan to accompany the Strategy. Is a copy of this plan available for our review now to aid in the grants workplan review?

Lucinda Power will be in touch, as the Bay Grants Project Officer, with Steve Taglang regarding a few workplan comments and requests. As you ramp up the new Chesapeake Bay Office under the reorganization, if you would please update us on the key points of contact for the various Bay related topic areas as you know them – thanks much.

Jon
